King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba.

This wonderful spectacle has a breadth of efforts which surprises and delights. Its gorgeous processions and splendid ballets are incomparable, and nothing so vast or imposing has ever been seen in this country before. We gaze upon the ancient city of Jerusalem and the Temple of Solomon animated with life and glowing with color. It is no mere artifical show, but a vivid and vast realization of life in the time of Solomon. The scenes are beguilded by its reality as well as its surpassing ty and the prefection of its details. WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, June 1, 1903.

Editor Press:—

It is doubtful if a greater compliment was ever paid to a President than that implied by the generous endorsement of President Roosevelt's candidacy to succeed himself. Fifteen states represented by 450 votes in the national convention, have already endorsed, in state convention, the candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt and the action of the Ohio convention, which is assured will add 46 votes to the total number. There will be 985 votes in the national convention so that 493 will be required to nominate. The states which have already declared for Mr. Roosevelt are Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Missouri, Minnesota, New York, Rhode Island, Texas, Utah, Washington, Illinois, and Pennsylvania. Ohio will add its endorsement this week the following have pledged their support through their state chairman; California, Michigan, Maine, Tennessee, Kentucky, Colorado, Wyoming, Wisconsin, Idaho, Oregon, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maryland, West Virginia, Nebraska and Montana. These will add 280 votes to the above number making a grand total of 730 votes, or 237 more than enough to nominate, pledged to President Roosevelt more than a year in advance of the nominating convention.

The clearing of the political situation, the asquiesance of Senator Hanna to the inevitable, following the President's bold and characteristic announcement that he who is not with me is against me, have all combined to constitute an incident which is the occasion of the greatest satisfaction to the President's friends as it has demonstrated his wide spread popularity beyond all questoin. The reluctance of shrewd democratic politicans to permit the use of their names as presidential possibilities is also regarded as a most encouraging sign, as it clearly indicates that the next democratic candidate will, in their opinion, be but a vicarious sacrifice on the altar of democratic harmnny.

Representative John A. T. Hull, of the Seventh Iowa district, has just arrived in Washington and he assures your correspondent that there is not a trace of factionalism left in the Republican ranks in Iowa. Senator Allison, "the great pacification," has drafted the tariff plank which will be submitted to the convention and has shown it to representatives of every shade of tariff opinion in the state and it meets with the approval of all. The clause which refers to "the shelter of monopoly" had been eliminated but that which proclaims the propiety of revising the schedules from time to time, as changing conditions warrant, is retained. Mr. Hull is on his way to West Point as he is a member of the Congressional Committee selected to visit the Military Academy.

Great interest attaches to a rumor that Senator Quay is about to retire from active polities. The rumor was received with little credence until it became known that Mr. Quay had absented himself from the state convention and had permitted Senator Penrose to be elected state chairman. The convention enthusiastically endorsed President Roosevelt and the policy of protection.

Smallpox at Wyside.

Dr. E. O. Bardwell, a member of the State Board of Health visited Wyside on Monday and reports a case of smallpox in an isolated locality, about half a mile from town. If properly guarded the case may be confined to that house. The unfortunate man's home is Garrett Wykoff's.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

Town of Gainesville Wrecked—Hundreds Killed.

GAINESVILLE, GA., June 2.—The town of 4,500 population was partialiy destroyed yesterday afternoon by a tornado, which in two minutes time, killed 150 people, injured nearily 200 and wrecked over 100 houses and partily wrecked two large cotton mills.

Probably two-thirds of the dead are womon and children, who were operatives in the cotton mills. The death list includes only about six negroes.

The storm came from the south out of almost a clear sky, swooping down on the Gainesville cotton mills near the Southern railroad station at 12:45 p. m.

With a terrible crash the two upper stories of the cotton mill were swept away, leaving 100 operatives dead. The cyclone then swept around the out shirts of the city, to the suburb of New Holland, two miles away, where are located the Pacolet cotton mills, one of the largest institutions of this character in the south. The plant of the Pacolet company was not seriously damaged, but probably 100 cottages standing nearby occupied by operatives who are employed in the mills, were completey demolished, killing 50 people. They are mostly women and chiidren, as the heads of families were nearly all in the factory at work. The store of Joseph Logan near the Gainesville cotton mills, was crushed to ruins by the wind and eight men who had taken refuge in it were instantly killed.

Reports from White Sulphur, seven mills from Gainesville, are to the effect that the storm struck there with terrific force, killing a dozen people. This however, is not absolutely confirmed.

He Won His Laurels.

Last Sunday morning "Sammy" started out for the hills in quest of some of the rare and beautiful laurel flowers, which he had promised to send to some of his western friends.

He crossed Broad street bridge and began the ascent of the hill and was soon lost in the deep thought of the thanks his friends would bestow upon him for his kindness. In this state of mind he wandered over the hill and down a ravine on the other side, before he once thought of looking for the flowers.

He finally found a clump of them and at once proceeded to gather the whole crop and collected them into one huge pile and then sat down on an old log to mop the honest sweat from his brow and view with satisfaction the fruits of his labor. He could hear the tolling church bells sounding faintly o'er the hill, and the birds sang gaily around him but he heeded them not. His view of the land-scape had changed to a vision of his boyhood days, when he was a farmer lad and hunted the cows in the woodland. He remembered how he was wont to go barefooted and stooping down he removed his shoes, and this made the scene complete. Suddenly he remembered that some delicious strawberries were promised him for dinner and he arose and gathered in his arms all the flowers he could carry. His homeward journey was uneventful, except when he struck one of his toes on a stone and he was seen coming down the road with a shoe in each coat pocket and his head poised high in the air, in order that he might see over his load of flowers. Being the first laurels he ever won, he naturaliy feels very proud of them, and will go often if the weather permits.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

THAYER.

MRS. SUSAN THAYER, aged 82 years, widow of the late Geo. C. Thayer, passed away Sunday night, while sitting in her chair. Deceased has resided in this county for very many years and was well known to many of our oldest residents. She has been in very feeble health for a long time, although was able to be about her home. In fact she was able to visit Emporium last Saturday and returned home in seemingly fair health. The funeral took place from the old homestead on Tuesday, interment being made in Newton Cemetery, Rev. Pugsley officiating.

RUBERTO.

Frank Ruberto's four year old son died on Sunday, of membraneous croup. Funeral took place on Monday, interment being made in St Mark's cemetery.

Finger Cut Off.

Last Thursday while G. H. Gross was cleaning his sausage machine the belt slipped on the live pully, and as a result George is nursing his right hand, having cut off the end of his first finger. Drs. Bardwell and DeLong dressed the injury.

Ready for Hot Weather.

J. L. Fobert, the fashionable tailor was a PRESS visitor on Monday and informs the public that he is better than ever prepared to meet the wants and desires of his patrons, having just received the latest in American and imported cloths, with first-class workmen to do the artistic work.

Prof. Bastian Now a Clergyman.

Prof. C. P. Bastian, who recently graduated at the Lutherian Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, Pa., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Lutheran Church, at Littlestown, Adams County, Pa., and will soon enter upon his duties. His Emporium friends will wish him abundant success in his new field.

Miss M. S. Burkle, who has for some time been manager of the Climax Powder Company, at this place, departed on Sunday for Pittsburg where she will reside. Miss Burkle is a thorough business lady and conducted the affairs of this extensive industry with marked ability. The passing of the Climax to the Trust was the cause of the change in manager at this place.

Ice Cream Sales, Friday Evening.

The Methodist ladies of the West Ward, will hold an ice cream sale on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Jordon, West Sixth Street, on Friday evening of this week to which they cordially invite their friends. Proceeds for the pipe organ fund.

An ice cream social will be held on R. R. McCuay's lawn Friday evening June 5, for the benefit of the new Presbyterian church.

Burglarly.

Some time after mid-night last Sunday, burglars entered A. A. MacDonald's liquor store and "cracked" the safe, using dynamite with which to blow off the door. About $25 in money together with several checks, in all amounting to about $100, were taken. Part of the checks are useless and payment has been stopped on the balance. The cracksmen were evidently professionals and made a complete job of their work.

Mr. Baxter, night clerk at the Warner House, heard the report about three o'clock, but could not locate the place or see anything to indicate "what was doing.'

The John Robinson Shows.

The acme of scenic spendor was reached when John Robinson produced the great spectacle of Solomon. His temple and the Queen of Sheba.

No court was greater in all that pertained to magnificence than Solomon's, and as historically reproduced with dozens of calcium and vari-colored lights on the brilliant costumes and scintillating armor, it has received unstinted praise from all who have been fortunate enough to witness the grand spectacle.

The circus has been characterized as the most interesting in its unexceptional features and in the general excellence of its ring performances. The menagerie is large and comprehensive and includes living specimens of the rarest beasts, birds, reptiles and amphibi.

The colossal Roman Hippodrome is in itself a feature that has no duplication and carries the spectator back to imperial Cæsar's day.

Smallpox Case.

Yesterday morning the Borough authorities were notified that a sick man, a stranger, was lying near the iron bridge west of the borough line, evidently a case of smallpox. Drs. Heilman, Bardwell and Smith were called, who agreed it was a genuine case. Dr. Bardwell, representing the State Board of Health, advised that he be removed to the hill south of town and a nurse be secured. Burgess Howard, H. C. Olmsted, Henry Auchu and Chas. Felt procurrd a tent and caused the sick man to be removed. He is a stranger here and claims he came here looking for work.

There is no danger of the disease spreading if our citizens keep on this side of the stream. Boys should be cautioned by their parents.

George Nickerson, of Shippen, was engaged to nurse the poor unfortunate and took charge last evening. He has had experience, having passed through the ordeal himself.

Since the above was placed in type we learn that the man's name is Lewis McGowen and that he came from Pine Grove, Elk county, where he was quarantined in a lumber camp. He originally resided in Cattaraugus county, N. Y., where a sister now lives.

Work of the Mothers' Meeting.

The members of the Mothers' Club take pleasure in announcing that their efforts to assist the High School Library, by placing therein a new encyclopedia have been finally accompiished. A set of the Britanica in thirty-one volumes, bound in half-morocco and costing $65 was purchased recently and put in place and will be ready for use when school re-opens. This work was begun by the mothers at the beginning of their meetings in November, as they desired to help the schools in a material way, and this particular object seemed to present the most urgent appeal. The money was raised partly by contributions from the pupils, which amounted to nearly $25. The remainder was raised among the mothers themselves.

Next year the organization will be completed at an earlier date, it is hoped, and the members expect to accomplish equally good results.

BLANCHE HYDE MOORE, Sec'y.

A Gentlemanly Agent.

Mr. L. H. Heckman, press agent of John Robinson's show, so popular with our people, was a pleasant contractor at this office last Monday. He knows just what he wants and gets that which pays his employer, without splitting hairs. This great show is larger than ever this year and evidently know when they have an efficient agent. We predict a large crowd at Emporium, June 16th.

Home Wedding.

Miss Mary Johnston, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Johnston, of Austin (formerly of Emporium) will be married at high noon to-day to Mr. William Mundy, of Bradford, Pa. The bride is a very excellent young lady and highly respected by all who know her. The groom is one of Bradford's lumber merchants. A number of Emporium people attended the wedding among whom were Mrs. Stoddard and Mrs. Julian.

New Sign Law.

Under the new law no person can paint, paste, brand or stamp or in any manner attach a sign to any public or private property whatsoever. There can, according to law, be no more painting of advertisements on the rocks on our beautiful mountain sides, cheapening the scenery and robbing it of its primitive grandeur. All owners of property and land will be justified in enforcing the provisions of the new law.

Consecration Services.

The consecration services at New Emmanuel Church took place at 10:30 this morning in the presence of a large congregation. The services, very interesting close this evening.

The smallpox patient who escaped from the Emporium pest house and it is supposed burned the house went to Bolivar, N. Y., where he was placed in a pest house. He cut up the same caper, there burned the house.

A storm which prevailed in Springfield, Ill., the other day blew down the famous elm planted by President Lincoln the day after his first election to the presidency. It stood in front of the old Lincoln homestead and a part of the roof of the old house was caved in by the fall of the tree. Every time President Lincoln came to Springfield he went to the old home and surveyed the growth of his elm.

Little Majorie, the six-year old daughter of United States Marshall Leonard, was severely injured last evening by being run down by a delivery wagon, in charge of a young man. She was crossing the street in the vicinity of her home, Second above Herr, and the wagon turned a corner quickly and knocked her down, the wheels passed over her right arm and side and her left hand, making painful injuries but not serious. She is confined to her bed.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Four men are either dead or dying in a town near Memphis on account of newspaper abuse that was taken seriously. The editors and citizens concerned would both be in business yet had they been wiser. The irresponsible editors who delight in a abuse should be treated as are the screaming monkies in tropical forests, to whom no one pays any attention. To be ignored iss the worst punishment that can be inflicted upon the monkey class of editors, and that method is more effective and satisfactory than the use of firearms or courts.—Ex.

Philadelphia Press; "Chairman Hall, of the Democratic State Committee, is quoted as favoring Senator Dewalt, of Lehigh, for Auditor General "because he not only voted against the press muzzler but made a strong speech in opposition to it." And while Senator Dewalt was doing this Senator Hall, the Democratic chairman, was sitting in his chair doing nothing—not even recording his vote against the muzzle. To continue Senator Hall at the head of the Democratic organization, and make a campaign against the muzzle would be a boisterous joke.

An expert on bugs estimates that they cost the people of the United States, in crops destroyed and for measures for their destruction, about $208,000,000 a year. Of this, the potato bug is responsible for a loss of $8,000,000, the Hessian fly for $50,000,000, the cinch bug for $10,000,000, the grasshopper for $90,000,000 and the bugs that devour Southern products for $60,000,000. It is evident that our humble neighbors are very expensive boarders and if we did not help a good many of them out of this world of trouble we should have to go ourselves very shortly. A little more Paris green might be profitable as an investment for our farmers.

The Candy Kitchen Club

Of the Presbyterian church will serve ice cream soda, and ice cream and cake, all in a thoroughly first-class manner at the soda stand of L. Taggart each Saturday of the season. Three young lady members of the club will be on hand to wait on the patrons. Hood & Gould's celebrated Buffalo Ice Cream only will be served. L. Taggart has so generously contributed the use of his stand, for the very worthy purpose of assisting in building the new Presbyterian Church. We earnestly solicit your patronage on that day. Chocolate, vanilla and strawberry ice cream will be on hand ample tables and seats will be in readiness.

Yours truly,

D. M. Walker, of Kirksville, Mo., holds a record that really should bring him an appointment of some kind from the president. He is a great-grandfather at the age of 59 years. At 19 he was a father and at 38 a grandfather. He is the father of 14 children, the oldest being 39 and the youngest four years. He has 25 grandchildren. His one great-grandchild is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Watts, of Pana, Ill.

The intention of J. Pierpont Morgan is now said to be to present the whole of his art collection to the United States government, provided congress will remove the tariff restrictions upon its importation to this country and furnish a suitable building and custodians for its proper care. Mr. Morgan has purchased many paintings, sculptures and curios of great artistic value which he now has stored in London and at various places on the continent.

Before leaving Dallas for his home in Gainesville, United States Senator J. W. Bailey authorized the statement that all of his Grapevine Prairie ranch has been sold. This closes Mr. Bailey's farming operations in Dallas county. Senator Bailey said he had sold the place because it was impossible for him to pay attention to it. He had, he said, spent one day on the farm in 18 months and such inattention as this would never bring in any profits.

It is seldom that anything but mulberry leaves are employed to feed silkworks in France. Very rarely the worms hatch before the mulberry leaves are out, and on such occasions they are fed young rose leaves for a few days. About 90,000 acres of land in France are planted in mulberry; 40,810 pounds of leaves are necessary to produce 2.2 pounds of cocoons. The production of fresh cocoons from one ounce of eggs in France varies from 45 to 147 pounds.

From New York to San Francisco in ten hours, on a train of cars without wheels, drawns at the rate of 300 miles an hour by a one-horse-power locomotive, and operated at one-sixth the cost of an ordinary railway—this is the achievement promised for a new system of railroading invented by Prof. A. C. Albertson, an electrical engineer, late of Copenhagen university, Denmark. The American and European governments have granted letters patent on the invention.

The 214 wells completed in the Baku (Russia) oil field show an average depth of 1,302 feet and an average initial production of 292 barrels per well per day, against an average depth of 1,086 feet and an average production per well per day of 330 barrels for the 358 wells completed in 1901, indicating a very material increase in the depth of drilling and a not inconsiderable falling off in the average productiveness of the wells. Oil is worth at the wells two-thirds of a cent a gallon.

Song birds will hereafter be as safe in the west as they have been in the east. A treaty of peace was arranged recently between the Millinery Jobbers' association and the Audobon society. A similar treaty was negotiated in the east between the Millinery Merchants' Protective association and the New York Audobon society, and was the basis for the present agreement. Under it the millinery men agree to discontinue the use of all song birds on hats, also gulls, terns, humming birds and grebes.

ROOSEVELT PREFERRED.

Western Democrats and Populists Know Where He Stands and Respect Him.

A western democrat, who is a United States senator, said in Washington the other day: "It will be very difficult for the democrats to nominate a man who can poll the full democratic vote in the west against President Roosevelt."

In giving his reasons for holding this view, the democratic senator said: "A democratic candidate for president would have to be as radical as Bryan to hold the radical democrats, and those democrats who are conservative would prefer Roosevelt and the conservatism of his party to the conservatism of even Mr. Cleveland, elected by the radical party."

In other words, this democratic senator believes that many of the democrats who voted for McKinley in 1896 and in 1900 will vote for Roosevelt in 1904, and, in addition, many of the democrats who voted for Bryan in 1900 will vote for Roosevelt in preference to Cleveland in 1904.

In the view of this democratic senator the Bryan democrats will support Mr. Roosevelt, not because he represents their views or their policies, but because of his courage in attacking trust evils. Many populists, it is declared, who left the Republican party years ago will return because "President Roosevelt has restored confidence in the republican party as a party of the plain people as well as of the rich and powerful. He is the most popular president we have ever had, so far as popularity is based on confidence in the courage as well as the integrity of a great executive."

On the same day that this declaration was made in Washington, former State Senator Edwin Taylor, one of the populist leaders in Kansas, said, in an interview: "Between Wall street and Roosevelt, I stand for Roosevelt. He is our man for next year's race. He is not exactly our kind of people, but he has courage. Kansas will give Roosevelt 100,000 majority, but lots of the Kansans who will vote for him will continue to hate his ideals."

If either of these interviews indicates a political tendency both are significant. The conservative as well as the radical democrats of the west, the silver republicans, and the populists who were formerly republicans are represented as facing toward Roosevelt because they have confidence in him even the most radical among them supporting him because of his conservatism and his courage in carrying out his convictions.

These interviews were given to the public after the president had visited many of the western states and had met the people face to face, after he had made several notable speeches defining his policy on the more important questions now before the two political parties.

Republicans, democrats and populists have heard or have read these speeches. They know where Roosevelt stands. They know that he represents an unwavering republican policy, and yet they prefer him to any democrat likely to be nominated for the presidency in 1904.

WILL BE NO CHANGE.

Protective Tariff Policy Will Not Suffer at the Hands of Iowa Republicans.

The "Iowa idea," like every other divergence in the republican party from the protection policy, has gone into retirement. The tariff plank which will be a part of the Iowa republican platform has been supervised by the able and experienced mind of United States Senator Allison, and when submitted by the latter to the inspection of United States Senator Aldrich, the leading tariff expert in the senate, has received the approval of the latter senator. This ought to be sufficient to show that the protective policy is not to be rapped by the Iowa republicans.

It is perfectly in order to leave all attacks upon the tariff policy to the democratic party, which has a consistent record for attacking everything which has conduced to the prosperity of this country. The democratic party will need some issue of negation, and the republicans would just as soon whip their competitors on the question of the tariff, as has been done so often before, as in any other controversy.

Republicanism without the idea of protection of home industries would certainly not be the republicanism of McKinley or Harrison or any of the great leaders who have marshaled the republican hosts to electoral victory. —Troy Times.

☞Mr. James H. Eckels is being mentioned as a democratic presidential candidate. Mr. Eckels will be remembered, after some effort, as the young man discovered by President Cleveland during his last term of office and appointed by him as comptroller of the currency. Mr. Eckels was chiefly remarkable as a youthful phenomenon. He is older now, and there is no excuse whatever for dragging him out of obscurity the second time.—Indianapolis Journal.

☞After climbing to his feet long enough to announce in a loud voice that Mr. Cleveland is not even a remote presidential possibility, Mr. Bryan dropped to the earth again, and, gluing his ear to the ground, resumed his attitude of listening intently.—N. Y. Evening Telegram.

☞When the Cleveland worshipers come to choose a running mate for him there will be plenty of good men to put on the ticket. Among others are Gen. Souphouse, Gen. Disaster, Gen. Depression, and Gen. Adversity. —N. Y. Press.

TREASURY AND PROSPERITY.

Large Revenues and Increased Imports Resulting from Wise Trade Policy.

Most people were looking for only a small excess in the government's receipts over its expenditures in the fiscal year 1903. The last of the war taxes had been repealed, and that source of revenue being removed, it was natural to suppose that the government's income would shrink considerably. The falling off, though, has been slight. The customs receipts are larger than for the same time last year, while the internal revenues for the ten months just expired of the fiscal year are only $35,000,000 shorter than they were in the same time in the preceding twelvemonth. The surplus of receipts over expenditures for the ten months is slightly in excess of $35,000,000.

Of course, this is a result of the business prosperity of the country, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The people are buying more of everything than they were a year ago. The imports have increased, making, as is well known, a much larger income for the government from that source than had been looked for. There has been a large consumption of all the articles on which internal taxes are levied. These circumstances make the calculations of the leading experts of the country regarding the government's probable income vary widely from the facts.

From the present indications, the surplus for the fiscal year will come close to the $50,000,000 mark. This may incite attempts for further reductions of the revenue next winter, but it is safe to predict that nothing of the sort will be agreed to. So long as the present prosperity lasts there will be large revenues, even from the present taxes, and the prosperity is likely to last several years more. But it would be unwise to cut down the government's income by legislation any farther at this time. The tendency of its outgo will be to increase. As the country grows in population and in the number and extent of its activities, the cost of government will necessarily expand. The present treasury outlook is encouraging, but the surplus is not large enough to be burdensome, and is not too large for safety In the treasury, as well as in commerce and industries, the nation's great prosperity is reflected.

IOWA TARIFF TALK.

Gossip Regarding the Adoption of a Plank Favoring a Change in Schedules.

A dispatch from Sioux City, Ia., contains what purports to be an outline of the tariff plank that will be favored for adoption by the national republican convention next year by President Roosevelt, Senator Allison and Gov Cummins, of Iowa. It is intimated that an agreement has been reached by the three republican leaders named for the adoption of the "Iowa idea" with respect to the tariff, "with some modifications," which is, perhaps, a qualifying and saving clause, says the Cleveland Leader.

Of course this is gossip. Nobody can tell now, a year in advance of the assembling of the convention, what the tariff plank of the republican platform will be. One statement in the dispatch is, however, correct, namely, that the tariff plank will insist that "the ruling and uncompromising principle is the protection and development of American labor and industries." There is not a sentence or syllable in any of the public utterances of President Roosevelt which indicates that he is in favor of departing in the least degree from the doctrine of protection. He has stood, absolutely and uncompromisingly, in line with his party upon that question.

Republicans here and there may feel that something would be gained by a revision of the tariff, but collectively they see no reason for attacking existing schedules. Every man of sense knows that, once the tariff is opened to amendment, there would be a general assault upon the policy of protection, and doubt and uncertainty would surely result. After all, the country has enjoyed unexampled prosperity under the present tariff law.

CURRENT COMMENT.

☞It will be noticed that the pangs of democratic reorganization increase as 1904 approaches.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

☞Grover Cleveland may be again nominated for the presidency, but that is as far as the people of this country will allow the joke to be carried.—Philadelphia Press.

☞We do not seem to recall the name of Walter Clark, upon whom the mantle of candidacy is about to fall, but then who had heard of Mr. Bryan prior to nomination day?—Chicago Record-Herald.

☞The Indianapolis Sentinel mentions 16 democratic possible candidates for the presidency. Sixteen candidates to one nomination. And after the convention there will be a candidate with one chance of election to 16 or more of defeat.—Albany Journal.

☞David B. Hill takes special pains to tell the country that he has not said anything in favor of Cleveland's third term candidacy. This is all right. None of the old Hill element is likely to see anything attractive in the candidacy of the ex-president. This is one of the very few matters on which Hill and Bryan agree.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

☞Mr. Cleveland has written a letter in which he says he is not desirous of another democratic nomination for the presidency. But he has not said he would decline one. Nor has Mr. Bryan.—Troy Times.

DEATH AND RUIN.

Cyclones Play Havoc in Nebraska and Iowa.

A Great Many People Were Killed and Injured — A Large Number of Buildings Were Wrecked —Farmers Sustained Heavy Losses.

Hastings, Neb., May 26.—A series of heavy storms, two of which developed into the worst tornadoes that have visited southern Nebraska for years, passed over portions of Clay, Franklin and Kearney counties Sunday evening. Fifteen persons are known to have lost their lives and over a score of persons were more or less seriously injured.

Near Norman, at the home of Daniel McCurdy, a number of relatives and friends were spending the day and not a one in the house escaped death or serious injury. Two miles south of Upland German Lutheran services were being held in a school house when the storm struck and demolished it, killing four of the occupants, including the minister, and injuring a number of others.

There were two tornados, both originating within a mile of Fairfield. The first one moved to the northwest and the second off to the southwest.

Omoha, Neb., May 27.—Eastern Nebraska was visited by another series of storms Monday night and yesterday, several of which developed into tornadoes. One visited Hastings, near the scene of Sunday's heavy storms, and blew several buildings to splinters.

Another struck Herman, 25 miles north of Omaha and a scene of a tornado five weeks ago, which killed a dozen people. The home of D. R. Parish was demolished and Mr. Parish, his wife and a child were seriously hurt.

Omaha also experienced a storm which blew several houses from their foundations and unroofed others. Accompanying the severe wind in every instance was a rain storm of unusual seevrity, and it is reported that several towns in eastern Nebraska are flooded, Springfield, Papillion and Plattsmouth reporting the worst conditions.

The railroads suffered washouts in a score of places, and several bridges have been carried away or badly damaged. One of the worst storms was at Davy, a small town northwest of Lincoln, which resulted in the injury of 13 persons, none fatally.

The storm in Lincoln did great damage, the loss on buildings being estimated at $100,000.

Des Moines, Ia., May 27.—Iowa has been storm swept for the past 24 hours. Three tornadoes, two Monday night and one last night, resulted in the loss of six lives, the fatal injury of three persons and the serious injury of a score of people, besides great property loss.

Blanchard, Ia., May 27.—A tornado struck the town of Elmo, eight miles west of Blanchard, last evening, destroying the town. Six persons are known to have been killed and several others injured. The storm destroyed a three-story brick hotel. Six bodies have been removed from the ruins of the building and others are believed to be buried in the debris.

RELIANCE AGAIN WINS.

The New Yacht Defeats the Constitution and the Columbia.

New York, May 27.—In a gamely contested race yesterday the Reliance again led the way across the finish line, winning her second victory over the Columbia and her first over the Constitution. Two minutes and 51 seconds later the Constitution finished, and the crew of the new boat gave her such a cheer as she deserved. The Constitution had sailed a plucky race and had a right to share in the honors. From the start to the finish she had fought out every mile over the 30-mile course and on two of its legs had actually outsailed the new boat, a performance which restores her prestige imperilled in her disappointing showing in the drifting match last Saturday, and makes her a factor to be reckoned with in the selection of a cup defender.

The Columbia was, for the day, outclassed. From the very start she was never for a moment in the race. While the Reliance and Constitution were having it out between themselves all the way around the course, the former cup defender was dragging along miles astern of them and when the Reliance sailed across the finish line the Columbia was more than two miles almost dead to leeward. The Reliance beat her by 15 minutes and 51 seconds.

Four Men Killed in a Mine.

Pittsburg, May 27.—Four men were killed and two badly burned by an explosion of gas in the mines of the Chartiers Coal & Coke Co. at Federal, a mining town on the Pittsburg, Chartiers & Youghiogheny railroad yesterday. The mine is but slightly injured. The dead: William Neilson, aged 42 years, married; mine boss; James Neilson, nephew of William Neilson, aged 23 years, single, roadman; Jacob Salor, miner, 34 years of age; Joseph Smuck, miner, aged 35 years. Sixty men were at work in the mine at the time of the explosion.

Murdered His Wife.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 27.—Samuel Ashby, of Portland, near Martin's Ferry, O., murdered his wife at their home in that place Tuesday. Ashby on Monday night turned his wife out of the house, but she returned. Ashby was there and after some conversation he drew a gun and shot her three times. Any one of the wounds would have been fatal, but, not satisfied, Ashby thrust a knife three times into his victim's breast. After inflicting the wounds the husband ran from his home, escaping to the country and had not been captured up to a late hour last night

ENDORSED ROOSEVELT.

Pennsylvania Republican Convention Also Nominated Four Candidates for State Offices.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 28.—The republican state convention on Wednesday endorsed President Roosevelt for renomination and declared against any change in the present tariff schedule. The state administration was strongly endorsed and no mention was made in the platform of the Grady-Salus libel law enacted by the recent legislature. Senator Quay declined to accept re-election as chairman of the state committee and his colleague, Senator Boies Penrose, was chosen his successor. The convention was remarkable for the unanimity with which it disposed of its business and the lack of contest for the four places on the state ticket. Senator William P. Snyder, of Chester county, was nominated for auditor general; William L. Matthues, of Delaware county, for state treasurer, and Judges Thomas A. Morrison, of McKean county, and John J. Henderson, of Crawford county, for superior court judges. Judges Morrison and Henderson are at present members of the superior court by appointment of the governor and their nomination is for the full term of ten years.

The plank in the platform endorsing President Roooosevelt for a second term is as follows:

"We commend and approve the administration of President Roosevelt, who with great ability, fidelity and vigor, has enforced the policies of his lamented predecessor, William McKinley, and of the republican party. We favor his nomination and election to the presidency in 1904 and pledge thereunto the united support of the republicans of Pennsylvania."

The last congress is praised for the passage of "many acts of the greatest benefit and advantage to the people," and of the question of tariff revision the platform says:

"We affirm our unswerving loyalty to the republican policy of a protective tariff and deprecate any suggestion of a general revision at the present time of the existing tariff law enacted in 1897. We believe it to be the dictum of wisdom to let well enough alone and not to imperil business interests by any suggestions of present interference with revenue legislation. Permanence and stability of tariff rates are essential to continued business prosperity."

REORGANIZATION PLAN.

Nine Big Plants to be Controlled by a Ship Building Combine.

New York, May 28.—The plan for the reorganization of the United States Ship Building Co. was made public last night. It has been prepared and will be carried out by a committee consisting of five prominent capitalists.

The plan provides for the organization of a company with the title of the Bethlehem Steel and Ship Building Co. The properties to be taken over are: Union iron works, San Francisco; Bath iron works, Bath, Me.; Hyde Windlass Co., Bath, Me.; Crescent Ship Yard Co., Elizabethport, N. J.; Canda Manufacturing Co., Carteret, N. J.; Samuel L. Moore & Sons Co., Elizabethport, N. J.; Eastern Ship Building Co., New London, Conn.; Harlan & Hollingsworth Co., Wilmington, Del. Also all of the capital stock (except directors' qualification shares) of the Bethlehem Steel Co., owning the Bethlehem steel works and property in the boroughs of South Bethlehem and Northampton Heights.

The United States Ship Building Co. and said allied corporations also own merchandise, bills receivable, contracts, accounts, cash and other personal property.

It is proposed that the new company in the acquisition of all the properties and assets of the ship building company and its constituent companies, including the Bethlehem Steel Co., and for the securing of additional cash working capital, shall issue $12,000,000 of 30-year 5 per cent. first mortgage gold bonds. These will be secured by a first mortgage bond upon all the properties, including the plant or capital stock of the Bethlehem Steel Co. and of the Bethlehem Iron Co., subject only to the underlying mortgages of those companies.

The total capitalization of the new company will be $43,000,000 and its fixed charges will be $1,117,550. To this should be added after the first five years $250,000 per annum for the sinking fund to retire the new first mortgage bonds.

To secure continuity in the management of the new corporation it is proposed to create a voting trust for a period of seven years.

A Minister Excommunicated.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 28.—A case of intense interest to the Presbyterian church came up in the general assembly yesterday. It was the appeal of Rev. Louis Richter, of Minneapolis, from the action of his presbytery and the synod of Minnesota in deposing him from the ministry and excommunicating him from the church. The charge against Mr. Richter was that he, as a Presbyterian minister, had occupied a post as agent of the dessemination of literature for the brewery trust. It was also charged that after citation by his presbytery he appealed by circulars to the saloons and breweries to contribute to a fund to enable him to prosecute his case before the general assembly.

Looks Like a Big Labor War.

Chicago, May 28.—No concessions will be made by the 12,000 cooks, waiters, waitresses, kitchen helpers and porters, according to a statement issued by their union. If the wage scale is not accepted by Monday it is declared a strike will be called. The workers are asking for a ten-hour day and about the same wages that are paid for 12 and 14 hours now in the better class of establishments. The Restaurant Keepers' association, on the other hand, announces that a strike in one restaurant will be the signal for a general lockout.

STORM WAS FATAL.

Four Indiana People Lost Their Lives During a Tornado.

Indianapolis, May 28.—Indiana was storm-swept yesterday. Four lives were lost and more than $1,000,000 damage was done to property. The worst destruction was in the gas belt. Six factories at Kokomo were partially wrecked, scores of buildings were blown from their foundations and partially destroyed and the cab from a passenger engine was blown away while the train was at full speed.

At Alexandria four smokestacks were blown down, killing W. S. Gray, a machinist. Between there and Anderson much damage was done to the traction lines. Willie Black, aged 10, was killed at Converse, and Langford Stephenson, a farmer at Logansport, was killed by lightning. In the northern part of the state there was heavy wind and hail. At South Bend, Columbia City and Cherubusco great damage was done to wires, buildings and trees.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 28.—The storm here assumed the proportions of a tornado and was accompanied by a fall of hail that damaged crops. Farm buildings, windmills and trees were blown down. Ira Dixon, a railroad section hand, was crushed to death under a falling tree.

The Outlook for Woman Suffrage

By CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

President National American Woman Suffrage Association

Though the past season has seen no such great woman suffrage victory as that of a year ago, when Australia conferred full suffrage upon her women citizens, yet the winter's work has not been without encouraging features.

Australia is perhaps about to take another step in advance. There is on foot a movement to seat a woman, Miss Vida Goldstein, in the parliament of that great country. Miss Goldstein is known to many Americans through addresses delivered last winter in many cities.

With restrictions in some provinces of Canada, women now possesses municipal suffrage throughout the British empire, except in South Africa; and here the premier has announced his intention of introducing in the provincial parliament a bill conferring it. In Holland, too, the social democratic party has just added municipal suffrage for women as a plank to its political platform.

In this country during the past year woman suffrage bills of different sorts have been introduced in the legislatures of 15 states and territories; and though no notable gains have been made, there have been indications of increased strength. In Arizona, for instance, a bill granting to women complete suffrage was passed by both houses of the legislature, though prevented by veto of the governor from becoming law.

In the United States we do not move any faster than is desired by the whole people. In the parliaments of the British provinces, which often seem to set us examples, the greater number of bills are introduced and passed as government measures. When the premier of South Africa is convinced of the wisdom of woman suffrage, the province is fairly likely to get it. Under our different system, which involves the personal interest and responsibility of the individual citizen, we move more cautiously than do countries esteemed conservative; BUT SLOWLY THOUGH WE ADVANCE, THE CAUSE OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS SURELY GAINING HEADWAY.

The Higher Civic Life.

By HAMILTON WRIGHT MABIE

Author and Editor of "The Outlook"

What an education in right living may be supplied by right government!

You will need to teach the boy fewer maxims of morality if he knows the city guards the water that he drinks, and that the fruit and meat and milk that come to its markets are above suspicion. You will need to preach to the boy less often about neatness if the city's streets are clean. You will bring up citizens with better notions of the true and good, if the skyline of the city's houses is right architecturally, if grass is green in the parks, and if fountains and statues beautify the squares. Environ boys with uprightness and beauty, and they will breathe these things as their natural atmosphere.

A city should be an educative force. Its honesty should create a soil in which vice should be an exotic, virtue the normal flower.

It is too much the fashion to decry the town. If man made it, and God made the country, it is also true that the noblest works are those in which God and man have cooperated. God made the marbles of Carrara and Pentelicon, and man made from them the Acropolis at Athens and the Moses of Michael Angelo.

To get together is the natural impulse of humanity, and it is by rubbing against his fellows that man lights the brightest fires of his genius. The modern city is a natural and inevitable growth, the chief trouble with it is that it has too many residents who are not citizens.

The modern city wants citizens in the true sense, men who will guard its repute as they do their private honor; citizens who will give brain and their strength to promoting the higher civic life and fostering the civic virtues. A city, before it can appeal to the heart and the imagination, must be something more than a center of commerce. It must be the center of the best efforts of the best men of the age.

Solution for Industrial Difficulties

By GEORGE H. ANDERSON

Distinguished Member of the Massachusetts Bar

IN the contest as it is now carried on between labor and capital it is obvious that there are at least two main desiderata: First, that the parties to the contest should become so nearly equal in real and apparent power that each may come to respect the other, to the end that an equilibrium approximating justice may result. The organization of labor is an absolute condition precedent under present conditions to any sound social and industrial progress. To oppose that organization, to attempt to prevent it by legislation, or to denounce it is both futile and foolish.

The second desiderata is that there should be an increased respect for law and for justice on the part of both labor and capital. The final appeal must be to justice.

It is one of the present responsibilities of capitalistic organization to undo the evil it has wrought—to teach the voters that the powers of the ballot box and of the legislative hall are to be held and exercised as a sacred trust for the benefit of the community as a whole. IF CAPITAL FAILS TO RECOGNIZE THE NECESSITY OF JUST LAWS, RESPECTED AND OBEYED, IT MAY EXPECT LITTLE MERCY AT THE HANDS OF ITS ADVERSARIES WHEN THEY DISCOVER THEIR REAL POWER. IF SOCIALISM COMES, THE MAIN RESPONSIBILITY WILL REST UPON THE CAPITALISTIC ORGANIZATIONS.

The Modern Woman.

By PROF. BRANDER MATTHEWS

IF the twentieth century woman has become a distinctive type, apart from her type in all ages, it is simply as a real thing slowly takes shape and form out of the half-limited features of an ideal.

What poets and painters have dreamed and sung about her, the woman herself has brought into living, breathing existence. She is neither better nor worse than of old. She is more developed, more rounded, more complex, but only because she knows more of the art of rightly putting herself together and of making a perfect and beautiful whole out of the parts her nature which up to the present seem somehow to have eluded her grasp.

UNANIMOUS VOTE.

Presbyterians Adopt a New Confession of Faith.

Color Line Question Was Also Considered—Report of the Special Committee on Divorce and Remarriage Was Disposed of.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 29.—The Presbyterian church of the United States in general assembly Thursday finally disposed of the question of revision of creed which has been before the last three general assemblies and which has agitated Presbyterian circles for the past 15 years. The assembly by unanimous vote adopted the revision of the confession of faith, as prepared by the committee appointed by the general assembly in 1901. Beside clearing the calendar of this important question the assembly disposed of the "Tennessee overture" in regard to "separate presbyteries in the same territory," which was commonly known as the "colored question" of the Presbyterian church, also the report of the special committee on divorce and remarriage. Several minor reports also were heard during the day.

The fact that creed revision was to come up attracted the largest crowd since the opening. After disposing of some business of minor importance Moderator Coyle announced that Rev. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton, N. J., chairman of the committee on bills and overtures, would submit the report of the committee on revision.

Dr. Van Dyke then proceeded with the report of the revision committee. He read the detailed vote on each one of the 11 overtures, which showed that no one overture had received more than ten negative votes. The overtures were voted upon seriatim and adopted.

By the adoption of 11 overtures, important additions, amplifications and amendments are made to the articles of the confession of faith. Of these, one of the most vital is the erection into the church doctrine of the belief that all who die in infancy are saved.

At the afternoon session the colored questions was disposed of. Dr. Putnam, from the committee on bills and overtures, reported a recommendation that overtures on "separate presbyteries for colored ministers" which had come up from Tennesseee and other southern states, be referred to a committee of seven, this committee to report to the next general assembly. The resolution was adopted.

Three additional chapters are added to the confession concerning the "love of God for all men, missions and the holy spirit."

Los Angeles, Cal., May 28.—A case of intense interest to the Presbyterian church came up in the general assembly yesterday. It was the appeal of Rev. Louis Richter, of Minneapolis, from the action of his presbytery and the synod of Minnesota in deposing him from the ministry and excommunicating him from the church. The charge against Mr. Richter was that he, as a Presbyterian minister, had occupied a post as agent of the dessemination of literature for the brewery trust. It was also charged that after citation by his presbytery he appealed by circulars to the saloons and breweries to contribute to a fund to enable him to prosecute his case before the general assembly.

ARE NOT SUSTAINED.

Charges of Cruelty Preferred Against Maj. Howse are Disproved.

Washington, May 29.—Secretary Root has made public all the papers in connection with the charges made against Maj. Robert L. Howze of having authorized the brutal and fatal whipping of hostile natives held as prisoners at Laoag, Luzon, in the spring of 1900. Secretary Root says in part:

"Howze's character and conduct afford a very strong presumption against the probability of his having done the things charged.

"The charges are sustained solely by ex-parte affidavits of a large number of native Filipinos who were hostile to the American troops and who unite in telling a story which if it is to be believed exhibits the most revolting cruelty.

"Maj. Hunter, who collected these affidavits nearly three years after the incidents to which they relate, appears by his own letters and the testimony of his brother officers to have entertained a bitter personal animosity towards Maj. Howze. It is clear that with the feelings which he entertained Maj. Hunter was not likely to be capable of making a really impartial investigation and that for this reason he was an unfit person to be assigned to that duty.

"The statements of these native affidavits are directly contradicted by the positive oaths of Maj. Howze himself and ten American officers who were stationed at Laoag at the time and so situated that it was impossible for them not to know whether the facts described in the affidavits really occurred. Either the oaths and statements of these American officers are false or the native affidavits produced by Maj. Hunter are false."

Murdered His Fiancee.

Pittsburg, May 29.—Because his affianced wife, Mary Muceuska, was nursing a friend's child, Albert Dobrydnio, a Pole, shot and killed her at No. 150 Pius street yesterday. The woman was 25 years of age and her slayer is 20 years of age. After shooting the woman Dobrydnio attempted to kill himself with a razor, but was prevented by some of his countrymen, who almost ended his life by beating him unmercifully. They finally dragged him through the street by the heels to the police station.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

President Roosevelt Turns His Steps Toward the East.

Pasco, Wash., May 26.—The president's train which left Seattle Sunday night over the Northern Pacific railway glided down the beautiful Yakima valley yesterday. The first speech of the day was made at Selilum, in the Cascade mountains, to a thousand coal miners who had come down from Roslyn. At North Yakima the president spoke on irrigation to an audience of 12,000.

Wallula, Wash., May 26.—The presidential party arrived in Pasco at 2:05 p. m. and was greeted by a crowd of about 750. The president made a general talk on irrigation.

Butte, Mont., May 28.—President Roosevelt arrived at Butte yesterday over the Great Northern railroad from Helena.

The drive through the streets of Butte was one long ovation. The neighboring towns for 50 miles had poured in their people and the line of march was crowded to suffocation.

A banquet at which 1,500 plates were laid was given at the Thornton hotel.

From the banquet table the president was escorted to Columbia gardens, where the principal speech of the day was made. Here a handsome souvenir, his photograph engraved on copper and framed in a copper frame, was presented to him in the name of the citizens of Butte.

Boise Idaho, May 29.—President Roosevelt made a number of short stops in Idaho yesterday after leaving Pocatello, at each one of which he was greeted by cheering and enthusiastic crowds. In his speeches he confined himself mostly to the benefits that have been and are to be derived from irrigation, and to the qualities that got to make up good citizenship.

Catarrh Causes Female Diseases.

America is the land of nervous women. The great majority of nervous women are so because they are suffering from some form of female disease. By far the greatest number of female troubles are caused directly by catarrh. These women despair of recovery. Female trouble is so common, so prevalent, that they accept it as almost inevitable. The greatest obstacle in the way of recovery is that they do not understand that it is catarrh which is the source of their illness.

In female complaint, ninety-nine cases out of one hundred are nothing but catarrh.

$25 to Colorado and Back.

It has been estimated that between 8,000,000 and 10,000,000 persons in the United States take a vacation every summer. They spend between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000 yearly in pursuit of pleasure. This is a great deal of money to spend during a vacation, but this season the expenditure per capita may be somewhat less on account of the low railroad rates offered by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

From July 1 to 10 this line will sell tickets to Colorado and return from Chicago for $25. This will enable many to enjoy their summer's outing at slight expense. Colorado summer resorts are cooler than the seashore.

For scenic beauty the Rocky Mountain region is famous the world round. The most attractive spots among these peaks are beautifully pictured and faithfully described in a new book just published by the passenger department of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. It will be sent on receipt of six cents to pay postage.

Old Railroad Ticket Is Now a Curiosity.

Mrs. Laura E. Howey, librarian of the State Historical society, of Montana has received from C. E. Reese, of Virginia City, one of the tickets used in the early '60s on the stage lines of Montana. It is from Virginia City to New York, issued by the Wells Fargo company, the fare at that time being $180. The ticket is composed of eight coupons.

The first is by stage, supposedly to Salt Lake, there being left a blank space to be filled in. From there it is over the Union Pacific railroad to Omaha, by omnibus to Council Bluffs and from there to Chicago over the Chicago & North-Western Railway.

From Chicago the ticket is over the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago to Pittsburg and from Pittsburg to Harrisburg over the Pennsylvania Central. From the latter place to New York the ticket calls for passage over the Allentown line to New York.

Timber Lands Absorbed.

WILLIAMSPORT, June 2.—The larges lumber company in the state has just been organized here with C. S. Horton as president. It is the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company, which has acquired by purchase all the timber land, of the Penn, Elk and Union companies, representing several hundred thousand acres in Central and Northwestern Pennsylvania. The capital stock of the concern is $20,000 000.

There is timber enough to furnish sawing for 15 years. The purchase covers six mills located at Jamison City, Laquin, Gray's Run, Tiadaghton, Lestonia and Loleta, and this number will probably be increased by operations at other points. The company has control of 200 miles of railroad.

The following from the Wellsboro Advocate, is a brief outline of the business career of the late L. R Gleason, so well and favorably known in this county, especially at Driftwood and Medix Run, where he has been interested in business:

"Readers of this paper will recall a mention in the preceding issue of this paper of the death of L. R Gleason, of Canton, who died May 19, aged 73 years. He was born in Button, Warren county, N. Y., Nov. 16, 1829, and came to Pennsylvania with his parents in 1840. At sixteen worked in the Blossburg mines. At nineteen commenced lumbering in the Pine Creek region. Married Martha Irvin, of Union, Tioga county, who died in 1880. In 1881 he married Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, of Canton, a sister of Judge John b. Mitchell, of Wellsboro. He worked in the lumber woods as laborer, superintendent and contractor until 1868, when he formed a partnership with his brother-in-law, William Irvin, in the tannery business at Canton. In 1881 they enlarged their business, building a large tannery at what is now Gleasonton, Clinton county. In 1887 he bought out his partner's interest, taking his five sons into business with him under the firm name of L. R. Gleason & Sons. In 1889 they built the Crescent tannery at Driftwood, Cameron county, and in 1895 the Cold Spring at Medix Run, in Elk county. The five boys are all practical tanners and have charge of the different plants. The home plant at Canton is in the firm name of Gleason & Clark, he having taken into partnership his two stepsons J. Fred and H. Lee Clark.

His Last Hope Realized.

[From the Sentinel, Globe, Mont.]

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by L. Taggart.

Profit in Strawberries.

People who are tinkering around with a small patch of strawberries should read the following from the Tucker County (W. Va.) Herald:

Think what this means: Thirty thousand quarts of strawberries were picked Friday from the 100-acre patch of State Senator E. Finley Cromwell, in the surburbs of Forfolk. These were picked by 300 negroes, who received for the day's work $600, at the rate of 2 cents a quart. The picking, packing and crates cost $900, and the berries were sold to a local firm for 9 cents a quart. The firm resold them at a profit of $150, and the berries were then shipped North. Mr. Cromwell received for the day's pick $2,700.

Letter to Chas. Shaffer.

Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: Two and two make four—not always; depends upon what "two and two" are.

Two gallons of water and two gallons of milk don't make four gallons of milk.

Neither does four gallons of paint that's half lime, whiting, clay and kerosene oil, make four gallons of real paint.

That's what we mean by saying "Fewer gallons; wears longer." It takes fewer gallons of Devoe Lead and Zinc than of mixed paints to paint a house, and it wears twice or three times as long as lead and oil, mixed by hand.

Prowse & Pelton, Herkimer, N. Y., write:

Mr. Chas. Avery, of Herkimer, bought 51 gallons of Devoe Lead and Zinc to paint his five houses, his painter having figured that it would require at least that amount. 36 gallons did the work and he returned 15 gallons.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.,

STRONGEST EVIDENCE OF FAITH.

L. Taggart Guarantees That Hyomei Will Cure the Worst case of Catarrah in Emporium,

When one of the most reputable concern in Emporium guarantees that a medicine will effect a cure or he will refund your money, it speaks volumes as to the merits of the remedy. It is in this way that L. Taggart is selling Hyomei, the treatment that has made so many remarkable cures of both acute and chronic cases of catarrh in Emporium and vicinity.

Hyomei is not a pill nor is it a liquid that has to be taken with a tablespoon or wineglass. Just breath it by the aid of an inhaler that comes in every outfit and benefit will be seen from the first treatment.

It destroyes all germ life in the air passages and lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone. It cures catarrh of the head and throat, or of the stomach, liver and kidneys. Wherever mucous membrane contains catarrhal germs, there Hyomei will do its work of healing.

When using this treatment, the air you breathe will be found like that in the mountains high above the sea level, where grow balsamic trees and plants which make the air pure by giving off volatile antiseptic fragrance that is healing to the respiratory organs.

Remember that if Hyomei does not cure you, L. Taggart will refund your money. This is a good time to cure catarrh by the natural method and prevent catarrhal colds that are so common at this season. 14-2t.

Worst of all Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, Decatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I'm completely recovered." For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It's guaranteed by L. Taggart, Druggist.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequaled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentorville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throut troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by L. THE HERMIT WHO NEVER WAS

"I'll leave the world," a cynic said one day,
"And meditate in some sequestered place;
The only thought men have is 'Will it pay?' "
"I'll leave the world," a cynic said one day;
"My foolish dreams and hopes I'll put away
And ne'er look on another human face!"
"I'll leave the world," a cynic said one day,
"And meditate in some sequestered place.

"Fools prate of love, but Love, alas! has flown,
And in his place Ambition stands;
The world obeys the voice of Wealth alone,
Fools prate of love, but Love, alas! has flown!
He claims the foolish maiden as his own
Who puts the costliest jewels on her hands;
Fools prate of love, but Love, alas! has flown,
And in his place Ambition boldly stands."

He started out to find a wild retreat,
But turned ere long, forgetting to be wise;
A maiden met him going down the street—
He started out to find a wild retreat—
Her cheeks were rosy and her smile was sweet,
Down at her feet, doglike, he yearning lies!
He started out to find a wild retreat,
But turned ere long, forgetting to be wise.

CHAPTER XXIV.—CONTINUED.

Mr. Kent, Mr. Morton and Mr. Pence were enjoying an afternoon nap, but they were quickly aroused and informed of the situation. Simon Pence was in an agony of terror. His knees sank beneath him and he was too agitated to speak. Not so with Mr. Kent. His fighting blood was up in a minute.

"I will shoot that crazy dude full of holes if he or his men attempt to lay hands on me!" he exclaimed. He reached into his stateroom and produced a repeating rifle which he examined carefully and calmly.

There were 20 rifles aboard the yacht. In anticipation of possible trouble Capt. Baldwin had purchased a dozen guns at Vera Cruz. These were distributed among the men and the crew. Sidney Hammond was put in charge of the defense—if one should be necessary. The weapons were placed within easy reach and they waited the approach of the "Shark," which was less than a mile away.

The faces of the men were a study. Hardly a word was spoken. Their faces were flushed with anger, rather than pale with fear. In plain sight was the yacht which had held them captive for days. They viewed the "Shark" as a pirate. Not a man doubted that Hestor was on board, and that he meant mischief. How trim and sleek the "Shark" looked as her prow cut the waves of the gulf! Her brass work glistened like gold in the afternoon sun. On her forward deck was a glint of polished steel. Mr. Kent recognized it.

"There is that rapid-fire gun," he said in an undertone.

Mr. Morton bowed, but said nothing.

Bernard Seymour examined his gun methodically. He ran his eye along the sights and studied the adjustment for distance. He spoke quietly to Sidney Hammond, received a nod of approval and went forward, taking a position near the bow of the boat.

Capt. Baldwin whistled a signal that he would go to starboard. There was no answer from the "Shark." Again the "Helen Carmody" blew a warning blast. In answer the "Shark" ran up a flag signal asking the "Helen Carmody" to "lay to." Capt. Baldwin hesitated a moment. He then gave the word to the engineer to go ahead full speed. They had been running half speed, so as to avoid any chance of a collision. Capt. Baldwin gave a blast to indicate that he would pass the "Shark" to leeward. The "Shark" slightly changed its course, and went slowly ahead parallel to its rival, but gradually drawing nearer.

As they came abreast the "Shark" was not 150 yards away. Those on the "Helen Carmody" could see Capt. Waters on the bridge. The crew was grouped on the forward deck.

A tall, slender figure in yachting uniform suddenly appeared by the side of Capt. Waters. Sidney instantly recognized Walter B. Hestor, who raised a megaphone. His voice sounded sharp and clear.

"Stand by; I wish to come aboard!" he shouted.

"Is the 'Shark' in distress?" was the reply of Capt. Baldwin.

"She is not!" shouted Hestor.

The two yachts were so close it was possible to converse without a megaphone.

"Stand off!" shouted Capt. Baldwin. "Stand off! You cannot come aboard. This is a private yacht, bound for New Orleans. Stand off, or I will run you down!"

"Hello, there, Mr. Rockwell!" shouted Hestor, lifting his cap and bowing profoundly. "Did you have a good time? How are you, Mr. Morton? You are so tanned I scarcely recognized you. How do you do, Mr. Kent? Hestoria seems to have agreed with you! Hello, Sidney! Kindly tell your friends, Sidney, that I must have the pleasure of their company aboard the 'Shark' at once! They are disarranging my plans. Check your yacht and I will send a launch over after you. There is my old college chum, L. Sylvester Vincent! How are you, old chap! You look like the real thing! No nonsense about this, Sidney! Stop your boat, or I will stop her for you!"

"You keep off our course!" shouted Sidney. "These gentlemen do not care to see you. Go your way and do not molest us. You will do so at your peril. Capt. Waters, that man is insane. You should put him in irons and take him to New Orleans. Are you the captain of a pirate ship? This is Mr. Carmody's yacht, with ladies aboard. We demand that we be allowed to proceed, and request you to do your duty and turn that man over to the authorities. He is a criminal or a lunatic."

"I am, am I!" shouted Hestor. He dashed the megaphone to the bridge and leaped to the lower deck. Like a flash he jumped to the rapid-fire gun. Capt. Waters yelled an order. It was not finished when there came a spit of fire from the muzzle of the gun. Three of the crew dashed at Hestor.

The same instant there was the crack of a rifle from the bow of the "Helen Carmody."

A dozen bullets tore through the glass and mahogany sides of the forward deck house. Sidney Hammond fell to the deck. The "Shark" swung sharply to the starboard, and in a few seconds was speeding away to the east. It all happened so quickly that with one exception the men on the "Helen Carmody" were too dazed to make a move. The wheelsman sent the yacht hard to port.

Mr. Kent was the first to reach the side of Sidney Hammond. There was a stain of red on his shoulder, and they tore and cut away the coat and shirt. As they did so, Sidney opened his eyes. He stared for a moment and jumped to his feet.

"It is nothing!" he said, as he took a long breath. "It is merely a flesh wound. The shock dazed me for a moment. I am all right."

Sidney laughed, but his face was white and the blood flowed freely from his right shoulder. The yacht steward—who was also a surgeon—examined the wound and declared it painful but not dangerous. He staunched the flow of blood and bandaged the wound. Sidney watched the fast disappearing "Shark" during this operation. He set his teeth, and not a groan escaped from his lips.

MR. KENT WAS THE FIRST TO REACH HIS SIDE.

The dining-room was strewn with broken glass and splinters. Ragged holes had been torn in the decorations, and one shot played havoc with the china closet. Miss Carmody came up from below. Her face was pale, but she did not seem in the least alarmed. She proceeded to act as nurse for Sidney, and would not listen to his declaration that he was going on deck. Chalmers regretted he had not been shot.

In the meantime the "Shark" continued on its eastern course, and the "Helen Carmody" neared the mouth of the Mississippi. It was seven o'clock in the evening when they took a pilot. Sidney was moved to the forward deck, and all gathered around him to discuss what had happened.

"That was about as rapid a bit of work as ever I witnessed," said Mr. Kent, who had been slightly cut in the hand by a flying piece of glass.

"Who fired the shot from our boat?" asked Sidney, with a slight grimace of pain as his shoulder twinged where the shot had lacerated a muscle. "It was the last thing I heard."

"I fired it," said Bernard Seymour. "And I got your man Hestor all right. Did you see him drop?"

"I did," said Mr. Morton. "His hands went up and he fell into the arms of two of his crew who were rushing forward to grab him."

"Did any one hear the order given by Capt. Waters?" asked Mr. Carmody.

"I heard every word he said," replied Miss Helen.

"You did!" exclaimed her father, a frown darkening his face. "I asked you to go below, Helen, and supposed you would obey me."

"I went below, papa, just as you told me to do," said Miss Helen, contritely. "But you did not tell me I could not look out. I opened the port hole in the saloon, and saw and heard everything that happened on the 'Shark.' When Mr. Hestor jumped from the bridge and ran to the gun, Capt. Waters shouted, 'Stop him! Hold him!' Then he yelled 'Starboard!' to the wheelsman, and rushed down the steps to the deck. But before the men could stop Hestor, he had commenced firing. Then he threw his hands up in the air and the men caught him as he fell backwards. I thought I could see blood on his face."

"This probably terminates Hestor's career as a pirate or a maniac," remarked Mr. Morton. "The government cutters will run the 'Shark' to cover in short order. You are quite a sharpshooter, Mr. Seymour."

"I had my eye on that Hotchkiss gun all the time," said Mr. Seymour. "At first I thought Hestor was making a bluff to scare us. But when he turned loose I knew he meant war. If he had remained back of the shield he would have been safe, and I proposed to drop the man at the wheel and take a crack at the captain. But Hestor stuck his head out to see where his shots were landing, and I let him have it. I have shot some before. The Sioux Indians and I used to exchange compliments before the battle of Wounded Knee, and I guess my shooting eye is all right yet. But I hope I did not kill him."

At midnight the "Helen Carmody" steamed up to New Orleans, landed near Canal street and discharged her passengers on their native soil. They at once proceeded to a hotel. Mr. Chalmers so managed the arrival and disposition of the party as to evade the alert reporters, and once in the hotel no one was allowed to disturb them.

A surgeon was called and made a careful examination of Sidney's wound. He confirmed the diagnosis made by the yacht steward. He dressed the wound carefully, and advised Sidney to remain quiet for several days. It was late before Mr. Chalmers and his assistants had forwarded to "The Record" an account of this incident.

Mr. Bernard Seymour arose bright and early the following morning, and after a stroll around the Lee Circle returned to the hotel and enjoyed a hearty breakfast. He purchased the morning papers, and selecting a comfortable chair on the veranda proceeded to combine the luxury of a cigar with a perusal of the journals in which his name figured so conspicuously. He was studying a three-column portrait labeled "Mr. Bernard Seymour, the Famous Newspaper Detective," when some one tapped him on the shoulder.

"Haou are ye, Mister Seymour! I swan, I'm mighty glad ter see ye! Haou de ye dew! Haou de ye dew!"

"Hello, Captain Parker! The pleasure is all mine! How are you, Captain? How is the good ship, the 'Sam Walker'?"

"Finer'n silk," said Capt. Parker, as they shook hands cordially. "Well, I swan, but ye'r er great man; ain't ye? Your picter is in all ther papers. Well, well, well! I swan, ye never can tell, can ye? Who'd a thunk it! So ye are a detective-reporter! Well, well, well!"

The Captain insisted on purchasing the cigars, after which they returned to the veranda. The good sailor seemed to have something on his mind. Once or twice he cleared his throat as if to make some important announcement. Finally he took a long pull at his cigar and said:

"Mister Seymour, seeing as how ye air a newspaper man—though I never would a thunk it—dew ye suppose ye could get my name in the papers about this 'ere matter? I don't care a blamed thing about it myself, but my old woman is just plum crazy ter see my name in the papers. Darned if I don't believe she would be willin' ter have ther 'Sam Walker' wrecked if it would get my name in ther newspapers. Fact! Dew ye suppose ye could fix it?"

"Sure, sure thing," said Mr. Bernard Seymour. "It's already in The New York Record. I sent more than a thousand words about you and the 'Sam Walker' from Vera Cruz. I also sent a description of you, and they will probably have your picture. All the papers will copy it. You had better get me a photograph of yourself for use in a more consecutive story I am now writing."

The delight of Capt. Parker was beyond expression. He nearly fractured Seymour's hand in his joyous clasp.

"The old woman will be tickled plum ter death!" he exclaimed. "I have been sailin' 30 years an' nothin' has happened worth printin' until now. Haou much is 1,000 words? A column! Great Scott! Have another segar. Have a box of 'em. This is the greatest thing that ever happened ter the Parker family."

Mr. Chalmers was asleep when a bell boy aroused him and presented a card. He rubbed his eyes sleepily and rebuked the boy in no equivocal language. Scrawled on a card was:

CAPTAIN JOHN WATERS.

The "Shark."

"Tell him to come up at once," said Mr. Chalmers.

Capt. Waters knocked at the door and entered the room. He bowed to Mr. Chalmers and stood by the door, refusing to take a seat.

"The 'Shark' is anchored out in the river," said Capt. Waters without any preliminary remarks. "Mr. Hestor is in a hospital. He is in a bad way. He is shot and crazy. I want to tell you how this happened. I worked for his father before him. He saved my life and I would die for him or his son. I have known Walter since he was a boy. Lately he has been acting queer. He told me those men were political prisoners. I am used to obeying orders and having them obeyed. It was only yesterday that I learned the truth. On Thursday he sent a boat ashore at Mobile and came back with a lot of newspapers. He left one where I found it. Then I knew the facts. Hestor had told me we were going back to the place where we left these men. Of course I know now what he was after. He intended to meet you and stop you. Just as I was about to take matters in my own hands, we sighted your boat. I thought I would humor him. I intended to come to New Orleans and give him up, and stand trial if I have done wrong. He jumped from the bridge, as you saw. One of your men shot him in the head, and he is likely to die. He has not been right since we left New York. I tell you this so you will know the truth. I am going to give myself up to the authorities."

[To Be Continued.]

WHEN POE RECITED.

First Public Appearance of the Well-Known Poet Netted Him the Sum of Six Dollars.

"It was at Mrs. McKenzie's that I first heard Poe recite, at her request, 'The Raven' and 'Annabel Lee,' only the family being present," says a writer in Lippincott's Magazine. "From an unusually lively mood he lapsed at once into a manner, expression and tone of voice of gloomy and almost weird solemnity, gazing as if on something invisible to others, and never changing his position until the recitation was concluded. It happened that he had just before requested of Mrs. McKenzie the loan of a sum of money, which request she was for a time unable to comply with; and she now said to him, 'Edgar, what do you think of giving a public recital of those poems? It would probably prove a financial success.' The result was that about a week later there appeared in the city papers a notice that on a certain evening the poet would give a recitation of his own two favorite poems in the exchange concert room, tickets to be had at a certain book store. Over 200 of these were printed, the charge of admission being 50 cents each.

"On the appointed evening, I, then a young man of 24, accompanied Mrs. Julia Mayo Cabell and another lady, both warm personal friends of Poe from his childhood, to the place of the proposed recitation. We arrived some moments after the appointed time, and, to our surprise, found, instead of a full audience, but nine persons assembled, we, together with the usher, making thirteen in number. Some time elapsed before Poe made his appearance, when he took his place on the platform, bowed, and, resting his hands on the back of a chair, recited 'The Raven' and 'Annabel Lee,' but in a mechanical sort of way, and with a total lack of the weird and gloomy expression which had given them such effect at Mrs. McKenzie's. On concluding, he again bowed and abruptly left the platform.

"The proceeds of this experiment was $6, in consideration of which, Mr. Boyden, proprietor of the exchange, would make no charge for the use of the hall, lights and attendance."

How Tennyson Was Recognized.

Things that impress some persons forcibly are not even noticed by others. An eminent Scotch surgeon and professor in the University of Edinburgh was entirely devoted to his profession. The poet Tennyson had at one time consulted him about some affection of the lungs. Years afterward he returned on the same errand. On being announced, he was nettled to observe that Mr. Syme had neither any recollection of his face, nor, still more galing, acquaintance with his name.

Tennyson thereupon mentioned the fact of his former visit. Still Syme failed to remember him. But when the professor put his ear to the poet's chest and heard the peculiar sound which the old ailment had made chronic, he at once exclaimed:

"Ah, I remember you now! I know you by your lung."

Can you imagine a greater humiliation for a poet than to be known not by his lyre, but by his lung?—N. Y. Mail and Express.

What the Little Lad Wanted.

A little grandson of mine, living in Cape Town, when about three years old was taken to church, and the bishop—now the archbishop—was preaching. Growing tired, he said out loud: "Mother, I wishes bishop would go back to Heaven; I wants go home." Meeting his lordship some time afterward I told him this story, adding that I thought the child had paid nim a very delicate compliment. The same boy had a little garden of his own, which was ravaged by neighborhood cats, large and fierce, of which Phil stood in great fear. So one night he added this petition to his usual prayers: "Please, God, send an angel to take care of my garden, and it had better be one that's not afraid of tomcats."—London Spectator.

Wouldn't Work.

In his lecture, "Love, Courtship and Marriage," delivered in the Lebanon Valley college chapel a few years ago, Rev. John Dewitt Miller, of Philadelphia, said that men should kiss their wives as they did when they were a year or two married. When the lecture was over an old man went home, put his arm around his wife's neck and kissed her.

Meeting the lecturer some time after, he said, "It's no go."

"What isn't?" said the lecturer.

"Vel," said the man, "ven I kissed my vife she said, 'Vat's gone wrong mit you, ye oult fool, ye?"—Tonella Herald.

W. C. PARK,

A Sensational Case.

Alston, Mich., May 25th.—Houghton County has never witnessed a more striking medical case than that of Mr. James Culet of this place.

Mr. Culet had spent a small fortune with the best physicians in the county and in addition to this he has tried every medicine he could hear of.

He had a very bad case of Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble, from which he had suffered for twenty years. Nothing he could get seemed to do him any good, and he was gradually growing worse.

He has no Rheumatism now and explains it thus:

"One day I happened to see an advertisement of Dodd's Kidney Pills and decided to try them.

"I made up my mind to give them a good fair trial, as my case was a very bad one and was of over twenty years' standing.

"I used altogether 42 boxes and I can truthfully say that they have driven out every trace of the Rheumatism.

"I feel like a new man, and I can and do most heartily recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills for Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble."

Information Wanted.

"Professor," said the medical student, "will you kindly tell me the best antidote for water?"

"Antidote for water!" exclaimed the astonished professor.

"Yes," replied the embryo M. D. "You see, I intend to practice in Kentucky, and I want to be perpared for the worst."—Chicago Daily News.

COLORADO.

Summer Tourists' Low Rates.

Western lines are now announcing special low rates to Colorado points for the summer months. This presents a fine opportunity for visiting a picturesque and interesting section of the United States. The trip will afford a realization of the wonderful progress of the West in its commercial development and particularly in its railway service.

It was no longer ago than in the strenuous days of '61 that Colorado was first made a territory and its capital city named for Gen. J. W. Denver, a Kansas Governor. It was not until 1870 that the first Chicago, Union Pacific & North-Western Line train entered the city, and six years later, in the year of the Centennial Exposition, that Colorado was admitted to the Union.

The Chicago & North-Western Railway announces a summer tourist rate of $30.00 for the round trip from Chicago to Colorado points, and similarly low rates from all points East.

The Union Pacific and Chicago & North-Western Railways maintain a double daily train service between Chicago and Denver, only one night en route from Chicago and the Central States and two nights from the Atlantic seaboard. The trains are equipped with buffet, smoking and library cars, Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars and free reclining chair cars. Dining cars, meals a la carte. The best of everything.

The number of bicycles forwarded and received by baggage car was 411,614; and baby cars forwarded and received 26,654.

CHANGE OF LIFE.

Some sensible advice to women passing through this trying period.

The painful and annoying symptoms experienced by most women at this period of life are easily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is especially designed to meet the needs of woman's system at the trying time of change of life.

It is no exaggeration to state that Mrs. Pinkham has over 5000 letters like the following proving the great value of her medicine at such times.

"I wish to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her medicine has done for me. My trouble was change of life. Four years ago my health began to fail, my head began to grow dizzy, my eyes pained me, and at times it seemed as if my back would fail me, had terrible pains across the kidneys. Hot flashes were very frequent and trying. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken six bottles of it and am to-day free from those troubles. I cannot speak in high enough terms of the medicine. I recommend it to all and wish every suffering woman would give it a trial."—BELLA ROSS, 88 Montclair Ave., Roslindale, Mass.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

PLANS FOR HOGHOUSE.

The Advice Here Given Is Good in Spite of the Fact That It Is Offered Gratis.

I shall build a house 22x60 feet, six-foot eaves, with one-third pitch roof, with an alley six feet wide through the center of building lengthwise. This will leave pens on either side eight feet, and they can be made 8x10 feet or more or less as seems best. I shall make mine 8x10; this will leave me 12 pens. As regards the use of cement floors, I have not seen any bad results from them where the hogs had the privilege of an outside run, and I shall build a cement floor in my own hoghouse. I would not recommend building a stone wall over three to 3½ feet high. In my own building I shall not build a wall over one foot in height, and shall make floor on a level with it with sufficient slope from center of alley to drain off all liquid. I would not build in a side hill, as I think it would be too damp. I would not build a two-story hoghouse; would advise building your corn house by itself, and make it so you can drive in and unload on either side of wagon. The diagrams shown in cut are of the buildings that I intend to build for myself.—Rural New Yorker.

PREPARATION OF WOOL.

Carelessness in This Work Entails a Loss of Several Million Dollars in Each Season.

The wool man may know how to sell wool. He may even know the true grades of wool and how to grow it. Whether the wool man is a composite character, possessing the above knowledge or a separate man in each of the classes named, he should be reminded of the fact that the woolen cloth maker knows what is most desirable in a fiber; that is, whether it is of even grade, whether it has a good tension capacity, will felt evenly, or is not in the bad company of a mere handful or even a few straws of coarser fleece. Even a trace or mohair in wool, for instance, or wool in mohair, for that matter, is disastrous, for it can only be got out at the factory by extra cost in sorting. This intrusion may be had by packing one grade of wool in the bags which formerly held another grade. Cloth is frequently met with which has a black hair or a lumpy streak and the like. The wool which produced this off-grade cloth or seconds loses to the seller as it does to the manufacturer. The wool sharer or puller should be most careful with his fleeces, that they may be marketed at the highest prices, and, hence, to the best advantage. The production of wool in this country is about 400,000,000 pounds. A loss of one cent per pound on it would mean $4,000,000. Carelessness entails a greater loss than one cent per pound. While the wool seller is looking at the market in the abstract, the wool buyer is looking very closely at the fleece. The producer could profit also by as close a scrutiny of his product.—National Provisioner.

SEASONABLE HOG NOTES.

Th pig should have a dry, warm nest, free from dust.

One or more brood sows are necessary on every farm.

Thrift, not hunger, should prompt the pig to take exercise.

The hog should never be compelled to squeal for his food.

Sows that have a very nervous temperament should be avoided.

Always select the largest, most growthy and best sows for breeders.

Exercise develops the muscles and has a tendency to produce lean meat.

Plenty of good water is as essential to the health of the hogs as good food.

When the pig is a suckling is when the foundation is laid for its future prosperity.

Sunshine, fresh air and ground are all necessary to the health, growth and development of pigs.

Dry dirt is not only an absorbent, but a disinfectant, wherein lies the advantage of a ground floor.

In many cases a quart of charcoal given to a brood sow that has taken too much feed will relieve her.

Pork making and apple growing are mutually helpful when the wormy apple gets into the pig's digestion.

The true value of a sow as a breeder cannot be fully known until she has farrowed two or three litters.

On account of the house slops, the wastes from the dairy and the garden, a few hogs are a necessary part of the farm stock.

To a very considerable extent the health and thrift of the pigs depends upon the health and thirft of the sows while carrying them.—Farm Home.

EARLY AND LATE PIGS.

Instructive Discussion of a Subject Wherein Every Western Farmer Is Vitally Interested.

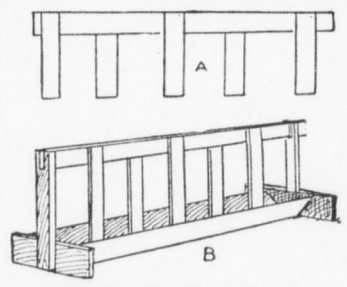
Every swine raiser probably has his own ideas about the proper time for the pigs to be littered, and there is no doubt that the different localities and the accommodations for their reception which have been provided make a difference as to the best season for them to come. If good shelter and comfortable houses for the brood sow have been provided, there is no doubt that the pig farrowed in February or March will be a profitable piece of property, but without these they had better come later. If the breeder follows the practice of raising two litters a year, as many of them do, early farrowing is a necessity. A pig that makes its appearance from the middle of February to the latter part of March can be so managed that the second litter can come and be well on the way before the cold weather sets in. A pig which comes early in the season has the advantage of grass, and he will thrive, come to maturity and become fat at much less expense than one which is farrowed in the fall.

Another advantage is that pigs born in the early months of the year can be fattened and sent to market before the hogs which have been fed on the new corn are sent in to glut the market and cause a depreciation in prices. In addition to having warm shelter, the brood sow should have more than ordinary care when she is expected to bring forth her litter while the cold weather is still in evidence. During the period of gestation they should not be kept fat enough to make good pork, but at the same time they should be kept in good condition. Their food should not consist exclusively of corn, but should be varied with a diet that will produce bone and muscle as well as fat and warmth. A good feed for sows at this time is potatoes, boiled and mashed and mixed with ground oats and corn, with the addition of a small quantity of bran. The small potatoes which have been sorted out from the marketable ones can be utilized very profitably in this manner. Scalded clover hay is also a good addition to the slop, as is also all the skim milk that can be spared from the kitchen.—Chicago Drovers' Journal.

ECONOMICAL FEEDING.

Designer of the Device Says It Is Sure to Keep the Pigs from Getting in the Trough.

I will here try to describe my pig trough, and hope I can make it plain enough for you to understand. I make a V-shaped trough out of 1x6 and 1x5-inch boards; to each end of trough I nail A, which is made of 1x3-inch slats, with a slot cut in top end to receive B, which is also a 1x3-inch slat, two inches longer than the trough. To B are nailed 1x2-inch slats, 12 or 14 inches long, four inches apart on alternate sides, and the 1x2-inch slats long enough to just reach the bottom of trough, when B, to which they are nailed, is set in the slots and three-inch wood pins put through at top end to keep pigs from lifting it out of place by drawing out the pins. Part with 1x2-inch slats nailed on can be taken off, and trough is easily cleaned. I have a small pen to set the trough in, and when the trough is filled open the slide door and let in the pigs. They can drink on either side; when pigs are over four months old they should have a larger trough. This is the best thing I have ever tried to keep pigs out of the trough, as they have no room to get more than their noses in the trough.—Carl A. Wiebke, in Epitomist.



FEED-SAVING PIG TROUGH.

Quick Growths, Big Profits.

A quick growth and an early maturity, returns the best profit among cattle, swine, sheep and poultry. The intelligent farmer, in preparing his stock for market, should always bear in mind the importance of pushing his stock from the time they are born until placed on the market. Every day should see a gain in weight along the lines of profit, yet at the same time, this crowding should not be overdone. There is danger of injuring animals by overfeeding, especially when young. If, however, the feed rations are properly made, looking toward just enough and not too little, or too much, good results may be expected in the end.—Midland Farmer.

Washing the Horses' Legs.

Too frequent washing of horses' legs with incomplete drying, and the use of soap and warm water in the winter time, cause most of the cases of "scratches," and the surest way to start their cure is to abandon washing. The dry mud is easily brushed and combed out; but it is quite a difficult matter to dry the skin after using soap and water on long haired legs. This also applies to the legs of light horses from November to May, and especially as regards horses having white "stockings," for such legs are more tender than those of dark color and prone to troublesome irritation and scratches, or "mud fever."—Rural World.

A DANGER SPOT.

A dangerous spot for pain is the small of the back; it tells of Kidney ills as do most pains and aches in the back. Kidney ills begin with backache and end with Diabetes, Dropsy, Bright's disease. Cure Kidney and Bladder troubles before they reach the serious stage. Read how easily it can be done.

W. J. Hill, of 40 South Union Street, Concord, N. C., proprietor of hardware and harness store, Justice of the Peace, and one of the best known residents of that city, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills proved a very efficient remedy in my case. I got a box at the Gibson Drug Store and used them for disordered kidneys and backache from which I had experienced a great deal of annoyance, trouble and pain. The kidney secretions had bothered me for a long while, were very irregular, dark colored and full of sediment. The Pills cleared it all up and I have not had an ache in my back since taking the last dose. My back is much stronger and my health generally is improved a great deal. I am glad to make a public endorsement of the Pills trusting that it may be the means of relieving some other sufferer."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Hill will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.
